

Registration is the first step toward creating a profile in the state of Washington Talent Pool. Once you register, you can provide the state with your “Profile.”

NOTE: We encourage you to register and create a profile, however it is not required. Doing so enables agency recruiters searching for individuals with your qualifications to access your name and invite you to apply for job openings that match your skills. If you prefer, you can search for opportunities and apply directly for the jobs that interest you.

1. To begin the registration process, click on Create a New Account. You will be taken to a page to enter your first, middle and last name.
2. Next you will enter your preferred user name, and create a password that is a minimum of six characters long and includes a letter, number and symbol. To better protect your personal information, the system requires that you update your password every 90 days.
3. Enter your e-mail address. The system will not allow the use of duplicate e-mail addresses. Each registrant will need to have a unique e-mail address. See our website for information on free e-mail.

NOTE: Washington State employees will use their personnel ID number as their user name. For state employees, the e-mail address is entered in Employee Self Service.

Before you register, read the data privacy statement (shown below) and acknowledge that you accept it.

In submitting these materials, I certify that information contained in my resume, and all other application-related information I have provided here is true, correct, and complete. I understand that consideration for employment and the continuation of subsequent employment depend on true, accurate and complete representation of these facts as stated or implied in all application-related material. I understand that untruthful or misleading answers are cause for rejection of my application, removal from the candidate pool, or dismissal if I am employed.
